

Infrarail 2018 - the perfect platform for networking and showcasing your capabilities

Following recent announcements on building plans and contract awards for HS2, and the latest news outlining the government's extensive investment aspirations for CP6, there is a real sense of optimism amongst the developers, operators and users of Britain's railways.

As this new dawn in railway investment approaches, the country's leading event for rail systems, equipment and services, prepares for its return in 2018.

Infrarail gives organisations a unique chance to showcase their work and putting them in the driving seat for future opportunities from a profiling perspective.

Infrarail is the UK's leading exhibition of railway infrastructure equipment products and services and returns to the ExCeL London in May next year. The event, which is always a hugely popular activity in the rail industry calendar, provides the perfect platform for companies to network, understand new demands, present their latest innovations, make connections and do real business.

Kirsten Whitehouse, Exhibition Manager for Infrarail, said: "We are approaching what could be a landmark period for the UK rail industry, as investment soars and opportunities grow, so what better time for rail companies to showcase their products and services?"

"Infrarail has been a highlight in the industry calendar for many years, and the twelfth edition promises to be our biggest and best yet. Exhibiting companies will cover the entire industry supply chain, and the venue will bring together some of the leading thinkers, legislators, organisations and engineers from across the UK rail industry.

Infrarail 2018 will feature keynote speeches by leading figures, industry seminars, project briefings and discussion groups – all free to attend and aimed at providing valuable insights into trends in technology and policy.

Kirsten added: "Next year's event will be 2018's definitive networking opportunity for visitors and exhibitors to meet, connect and inspire; sharing knowledge and making contacts. It is an event that is not to be missed and I urge businesses interested in exhibiting to make a reservation as soon as possible, as spaces are rapidly selling out."

Infrarail 2018 will take place between 1-3 May at the ExCeL London. For more information visit www.infrarail.com.
